The 2014 Chassagne-Montrachet les Battaudes, from clay soils and matured in 30% new oak, has a fragrant nose of white flowers, white peach and a touch of Japanese yuzu--all well defined and nicely integrated with the wood. The palate is vibrant on the entry with crisp acidity, orange peel and a touch of blackberry leaf, the acidity nicely judged and conveying a sense of harmony and refinement on the finish that is almost Premier Cru in quality. Excellent.

The 2014 Saint Aubin 1er Cru Les Perrières has a beautiful bouquet: very pure with green apple, lime, chalk and citrus lemon that is very refined and Puligny-like in style. The palate is clean and fresh with good weight in the mouth, a little salinity to kick things off and then the green apple and lime fruit takes over. The oak is very well integrated here and it lingers long and tenderly in the mouth. This comes highly recommended.
